A Plain Issue.

Under the head of "What Next," the Louisville Commercial expresses the opinion that with the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment the issue between its party and the Democracy is settled. This is quite a mistake. On the contrary the Radical party is now opening up a issue that the Democracy will fight with all the vigor and energy it can command. There can be no misconception of the issue presented. The issue which many predicted from the beginning of our troubles, the issue which the Radicals have heretofore denied as their ultimate object is now becoming part and parcel of their politics.

Negro equality is the advanced step taken by this progressive party. It is not necessary to go down to the military provinces of this country where the intelligent white citizens are held in subjection by negro legislators and negro officers and by worse than negro rulers—scalawags and carpet-baggers. The coming of whites and blacks in public political meetings in Kentucky is becoming distressingly common. No man who is not wilfully blind can avoid seeing the social intercourses between the two races as exemplified in the gatherings which are now participated in by the delayed negroes and the Radicals who are hungry for negro votes and care not the "cost of a copper" for the negroes' welfare.

It is a poor defense to say that the Amendments to the Constitution admit the negro to the ballot-box and to the public offices. Nothing but a change in the law of our nature can make us swallow in the fifth and more of political degradation. Let us be distinctly understood. We make a plain issue. Although ratified by the most unfair means, although military bayonets have forced from the South the adoption of the Amendments to the Constitution, they form part of that constitution until lawfully repealed and abrogated. But the Democracy of this country will fight the new and living issue of negro equality until the abomination is repudiated by every man who is not ashamed of his Anglo-Saxon blood, and who thinks that negro equality should be succeeded by that other outgrowth of fanaticism in which advanced Radicalism would indulge, and that is miscegenation.

We understand that some of our Democratic friends object to our taking an advertisement from a negro. Until they refuse to sell anything to a negro, until the lawyers and the doctors refuse to do any service for the negroes, they must not expect us to refuse to take an advertisement from one, especially as in the case to which they refer—that of Simms' announcement, when the advertisement demonstrates a political truth which columns of argument could not strengthen. The announcement of Simms and his withdrawal by the Radicals is one of the signs of the times that must not be lost sight of.

That poor little pitiful sucking that draws away at the Radical pup in this County as if for dear life, still lives. The Louisville Commercial of yesterday has a feeble wail from "Gnider Tired." We thought "Gnider" was dead. He is not dead but terribly diseased. When he made his first appearance in the Commercial he showed evident signs of a superabundance of gas. We made a slight puncture and he collapsed. For several weeks he had nothing from "Gnider," but here he is again full of gas.

"Gnider" says he threw a torpedo into the Democratic ranks; we advise him not to handle torpedoes or anything else that will produce combustion, he is too gassy. We regret the Commercial comes to us too late for further notice of "Gnider" in this issue, but we may apologize to our readers for publishing some extracts from his article next week, as a sample of what kind of stuff is formed by the mixture of gas and radical pap.

Our Radicals will have to call another meeting and explain to their colored friends that they were only joking about their having a right to hold office. If they don't, we may be called upon to announce some other colored candidate.

Is it not rather early in the fight for the Rads to inform their colored friends that they want their votes, but they must not interfere with the offices.

How unreasonable is it for the white Rads to teach the negroes that they are good as anybody, and then rebuke one who asks only a second place on their ticket?

What a terrible bombshell that colored soldier threw into the Radical camp! What a scaturation it caused!

They do say that the would-be colored candidate got an awful "usion" for getting ahead of his white friends.

What the Radicals said to Simms—"Sheo Fly!"

Radical Consistency.

THE CASE OF DANIEL SIMMS.

The Radicals taught the negroes at their meetings last week that they were good as any white man, having the same rights and privileges, yet no sooner does a colored man announce himself a candidate for their suffrage than they repudiate him. The sensible negroes are beginning to see for what purpose all the extraordinary devotion of the Radicals is exhibited. They want office. These men who have asked office in vain, year after year from white men, finding the negro a voter overwhelm him with exhibitions of their love. With the thought of office in the distance they blubber over the poor African until he imagines himself a saint. In fact we hear it related that one colored auntie, who heard one of the eloquent white speakers at the recent powwow, expressed herself as follows: "If I had my way, dat man's feet should never touch earth again. I'd hold him up in my arms." After working up the colored people to a point where they were in a blaze of patriotic glory, they go forth rejoicing at the glorious tidings.

But here comes a colored man, who had been thoroughly inoculated with the idea of his exalted privileges, and requests us to announce him as a candidate for a county office. This raises a terrible commotion in the Radical ranks. They seek the offending brother, and induce him, by what means we do not know, to authorize a denial of his announcement, and then relieve the Radicals of a weight that they are not able and not willing, at this early period of the contest, to carry.

The attempt of the Radicals to make of this affair a "Democratic trick" signals fail in view of the following statement furnished by us to the Louisville Commercial, in reply to the card of denial which appeared in that paper.

SHELBYVILLE, KY., March 5, 70.]

To the Editor of the Louisville Commercial:

Will you do me the justice to publish the following statement in reply to a card in your paper which some one has written for Daniel Simms of color, in which it is denied that the use of his name as a candidate for jailer, as published in the Sentinel, was unauthorized by him.

Simms came to my office on last Monday morning and requested me to announce him as a candidate for jailer. Although it had been currently reported that he was a candidate, to tell his sincerity I told him that it would be of no advantage to him to make the statement, as the Republicans would not support him, or permit him to make the race. He then assured me that he had talked with his colored friends, and that they would all vote for him. He also referred to the fact that several Democratic candidates were running, which would make it easy for him to be elected.

Finding that he was in earnest in desiring to have the announcement made, I wrote for him the card which appears in the Sentinel, and will add that I considered it a legitimate business transaction.

The announcement grew out of the conversation Simms had with me, and did not originate as the writer of the denial wishes it to appear.

The statement made to me by Simms as to the plurality of Democratic candidates was sufficient authority for the "additional notice" of him as a Radical candidate.

Please publish the statements of disinterested parties, copies of which are herewith furnished.

Respectfully, &c.,
JOHN T. HEARN.

I saw Dan Simms (of color), on the 28th ult., in earnest conversation with Mr. Hearn, the editor of the Sherby Sentinel. I passed them standing near the open door of the editor's room. Soon after Mr. Hearn entered the editor's room where I was sitting and remarked that Dan Simms had authorized him to announce him as a candidate for jailer.

A House amendment to a bill to authorize Shelby county to issue bonds for the benefit of turnpike roads.

A House bill to amend the charter of the Taylorsville and Shelbyville Turnpike Road Company.

A House bill to amend an act relating to the Eminence and Shelbyville Turnpike Road Company, &c.

A House bill to amend the charter of Shelbyville.

Daniel Simms (of color) stated to us on several occasions his intention of making the race for jailer, and inquired of us as to eligibility, and also stated that he would have it announced in the Sentinel.

H. H. CHURCHILL.

Attention is also directed to the statement of those who heard Simms' explanation of the affair after the card had appeared in the Commercial.

Daniel Simms (of color) stated to us on Monday, March 7th, in the store of John M. McGrath, that he had told Mr. Hearn to announce him as a candidate for jailer. He also endeavored to explain that he had afterwards reconsidered the matter, but, from his whole statement, we have no hesitation in saying that the announcement as published in the Sentinel, was made by his authority.

He also denied that he had authorized the statement furnished by the Louisville Commercial, in which it was said that a Democratic candidate for jailer had approached him and asked his influence.

John M. McGrath, R. W. WILLIS, H. LAYSON, I. A. PAYNE, D. J. THOMPSON.

John G. Baxter was elected Mayor of Louisville Saturday by 550 majority over Bunce, the incumbent.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Fayette county have resolved upon holding a primary election on the 12th of March.

[For the Shelby Sentinel.]
St. Louis Correspondence.

ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI, March 1st, 1870.

Dear Sentinel:

The example of Grant in barters fat offices and places for fine houses, libraries, etc., that has been followed by Whittemore and other corrupt radical carpet-bag Congressmen in the sale of cadetships, has excited a storm of virtuous wrath against the M. C. scalawags. But we hear of no censure or movement being made against Grant, the greatest and most corrupt speculator of them all. Maledictions, loud and deep, are being heaped upon these poor, wretched, impudent creatures, but not a whisper of censure is uttered concerning the appointments by Grant of men by whom he has been and presents. But, as the Chicago Times remarks, it makes all the difference in the world as to whose is good, and adds that this was all right, but when it is determined that Grant should be punished for trafficking in appointments, the republican press came to the conclusion that the sale of cadetships was not more dishonorable and criminal than many other acts which Congressmen have become accustomed to perform, and which are not made special subjects of censure, like the right of suffrage. It must be seen to the bottom. These piers have been built on an experimental plan, by sinking them as they are built, by the aid of Air Pumps, etc. The bridge will be about 1,500 feet long, with only two piers. It is to be 90 feet above low water mark, and will be two-story high. The cars are to pass over on the lower floor, and the upper to be for vehicles, foot-passengers, etc. The granite with which the piers are being made is shipped from Richmond, Va. A kind of grey marble is used for ornamental purposes, similar to the Tennessee Italian Marble.

Schenk is now chairman of the committee of ways and means. Butler says that Schenk has employed his position to enrich himself. If Schenk makes sale of himself on a tax or tariff bill, he is not guilty of an act of great dishonesty as the creature spawned by the reconstruction infamy, and dubbed a Congressman is in peddling a cadetship?

Ringed legislation in Congress is now expected upon all bills of general interest, and the rings control all congressional legislation of a private character. The extent of official patronage is evident from the fact that every man in the country knows what ring is in the race for advancement and development, and we sorrowfully record our sinking opinion of that fleeting vision. Something might be done in the remaining two weeks, but we rarely see the latter days of spring bring forth any fruits. And if the adjourned session in January is to be no better, it would be far wiser to adjourn sine die, and save the State a useless expenditure of $100,000.

Promptly on the passage of the Fifteenth Amendment comes a bill for the appointment of election officers all over the United States by the Secretary of the Interior! The Secretary of War is to sustain him in his duty, and to have the election of a black and tan assembly in the city of Louisville—and largely more "black and tan." We can no longer doubt that the world moves.

The Radical scene shifters and state managers have made up their minds to appropriate to themselves the negro vote, entire, by letting themselves down to his platform, vainly imagining that the district of white voters will be won over to them.

White men who have hitherto sought for them will follow them still. Herin will still find their direct masters. The world will never be the same again.

Thin hair is thin, falling hair checkered, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

But this much has been clearly elucidated, and is become an axiomatic with the learned profession, that by far the greatest number of our ailments are directly traceable to derangement of the digestive function, and if "good digestion wait on appetite," health will be almost uniform. Acting upon this axiom, the inventor of Dr. Harley's Celebrated Stomach Bitters has been eminently successful; judging from the many testimonials that are constantly pouring in upon him through the mails and press, in preparing a remedy to meet and "nip in bud" all this long list of obscure and distressing derangements that render life scarce worth the living.

Josh Billings' Paper.

FEMALE REMARKS.

Dear girl, are you in search ov a husband? This is a punner, and you are not required to say "Yes," out loud, but are expected tew throw your eyes down onto the earth, as then you are looking for a pin and reply to the interrogatory, as the yu waz eating an oyster, juice and all, off from the half shell.

Not tew press so tendar a theme until it becomes a thorn in the flesh, we will presume (tew avoid argument) that you are on the lookout for something in the male line tew boost yu up in the up-hill or life, and tew keep his eyes on the britching when yu begin tew go down the other side ov the mountain. Let me give you sum small chunks ov advice how tew spot yure fuster friends:

1. The man who is jellous ov every little attencion which yu git from sum other fellow, yu will find after yu are married to him, lurs himself more than he duz you, and what yu mistook for solitissude, yu will discover has changed into indifference. Jellasy isn't a heart disease; it is a liver complaint.

2. A mustash is indispensable; it is only a little more hair, and is a good deal like moss and ether increscences—often due the best on site that won't raise anything else. Don't forget that those things which ya admire in a phellow before marringe you will probably hev ten admirers in a husband after, and a mustash will git tew be very weak diet after a long time.

3. If husbands could be took on trial, as Irish cooks, two thirds ov them would probably be returned; but there don't seem to be eny law for this. Therefore, givins yu will see that after yu git married yu hav gotta keep him even if yu lose him. Consequently if yu've got koldifives in the house, try him on them, once in a while, during scouring season, and if he swallers them well, and sez he will take sum more, he is a man who, when blue Monday cum, will wash well.

4. Don't marry a pheller who is always a tellin how his mother dus things. It is hard tew suit them as it is tew wean a young one.

5. If a young man can beat yu playing on a panner, and kant hear a fish-horn playing in the street without turning a back summertid on account of the music that is in him, I say ship him; he might answer tew tend babe, but if you set him hoeing out the garden, yu will find that yu have to do it yourself. A man whose whole heft lies in music (and not very hefty at that) ain't no better for a husband. He's a scoldin powder; but if he loves to live while yu sing sum gentle ballad, yu will find him mellow and not soft. But don't marry anybody for just one virtue, any quicker than yu would flop a man for just one fault.

6. It is one ov the most tuffest things for a female to be an old maid successfully. A grate meny hez tried it and made a bad job ov it. Everybody seems to look upon old maidjist ez they do dried herbs—in the garret, handy for sickness—and therefore girls, it ain't a mistake that yu should be within tew swap yourself up with some tree phellex for a husband. The swap is a good one, but don't swap for eny man who is respected just because his father is. You had better be an old maid for a thousand years, then join the Shakers, than tew buy re-pentance at this price. No woman ever made this trade who didn't git either a phael, a mean cuss, or a clown, for a husband.

7. In digging down into this subject I find that the digging grows harder the further I git. It is much easier tew inform yu who not to marry than who tew, for the reason there iz more ov them.

I don't think yu will foller my advise if I give it; and, therefore, I will keep it, for i look upon advise as i do upon castile ile—a mean dose to take.

But I must say one thing, girls, or spile. If you can find a bright-eyed healthy and well bellasted boy, who looks upon poverty as sassy as a child looks upon wealth—who had rather sit down on the curb-stub, in front of the 5th avenue hotel, and eat a ham sandwich than tew go inside and run in debt for his dinner and a night—pick one who is armed with that hand or pluck that mistakes a defeat for a victory—no avis is tew take him body and soul, snare him at anst, for he is a stray trout, of a breed very skee in our waters. Take him, I say, and hold onto him as hornet bids onto a tree.

8. A special to the Louisville Courier-Journal from Lebanon Kentucky, says a mob of about seventy-five men took two men of Washington county out of the Springfield jail, on Monday night and hung them. They were charged with rape. United States soldiers had been detailed, at the request of the county Judge, to guard the jail, but had been withdrawn. There were four others in jail, but they defended themselves. Some of the mob stuck a pistol into their cell. One of the prisoners knocked the pistol out of the assassin's hand, and with that drove off the mob.

MISCEGENATION.—Mr. Sinclair, who is styled the fighting parson, has introduced in the North Carolina House of Commons a bill legalizing marriages between blacks and whites in his county from 1865 to 1869 inclusive. This is miscegenation and social equality on the broadest basis; for it is right to legalize these marriages in Robinson county it is right to legalize them in every other county, and if for the last four years, then for the next four in short, for all times and all countries and all States.

A Mrs. Wolf resided in Williamsport, Penn., until last week. Then she perished that confiding individual, her husband, to sell his household goods and prepare to go to the country, with her to spend the remainder of the winter with her relatives. After he had intrusted to her the proceeds of the sale the crafty Mrs. Wolf soon told that confiding individual, her husband, that she was tired of him, and left for parts unknown with another female.

A Macon broker recently paid one dollar for $2,500 in Confederate money.
